

CASE STUDY

Private Equity Carve-Out and Target Operating Model Transformation

Following its carve-out and private equity backing from Inflexion, Axiom GRC needed to stand up an independent cloud and infrastructure function aligned to a new Target Operating Model. Prism delivered the key architecture, cloud, network and operations hires required to support the separation from the parent business and enable international growth.

CV TO INTERVIEW 80%

TIME TO HIRE 2 Weeks

RETENTION 100%

HIRING PROJECT

6
TOTAL HIRES

100%
PERMANENT

3 Month
PROJECT

HOW WE DELIVERED

Adapted quickly to fluid and evolving job requirements

Provided dedicated account management and a single POC

Creative solutions within rigid salary and location constraints

Weekly cadence meetings and clear comms with management

TALENT DEPLOYED

Software Engineering

Data

QA

DevOps

TESTIMONIALS

I've really enjoyed working with Prism. The team have been consistently excellent, quick to understand our briefs, even when things changed mid-flight, and always responsive when we needed to adapt timelines. They delivered at pace without compromising on quality and took the time to understand the culture we needed in our candidates. Prism have been a great partner for us throughout.

John Hood
Axiom GRC, CIO

Prism really listened to what we needed and kept communication clear throughout. We valued how well they understood our culture and consistently introduced people who were a genuine fit for the team. They didn't just match candidates to a job spec, they found individuals who could step straight into the role and thrive long term. It made a real difference to the success of our hiring.

Michael Hazelden
Axiom GRC, CTO