

CASE STUDY

Building a New Bank in the USA

Prism Digital supported Moneycorp through its shift from B2C FX into a regulated B2B and US banking platform. We delivered infrastructure, cloud, DevOps and change hires under high regulatory pressure, building trust where previous suppliers had failed.

TESTIMONIALS

Prism has been of great value to me over the years. They have found me good candidates that match the roles I have given them. They have delivered candidates quickly along with maintaining high-quality options for me to choose from. Prism is a trusted partner to me as they understand and can adapt to Moneycorp's ecosystem and the frequent changes that we encounter in our fast-paced financial services environment. Thank you for all the support over the years.

Richard King
Moneycorp, Head of Development

Working with Prism Digital has been brilliant for my team at Moneycorp. From day one of the brief, they're highly proactive, delivering top-tier candidates often faster than I can provide feedback. They truly understand my needs, consistently delivering a shortlist of high-quality candidates. Final hiring decisions are often challenging when selecting candidates from Prism, as they typically provide multiple strong options. Their day rates for contractors are not only transparent but also competitive. They're truly dedicated to my team's success, and it's a pleasure working with a partner who values having a successful relationship.
